Education & Outreach at Clare Museum

For researchers, historians, students, and learners of any age, there are many ways to find out more about the collections of Clare Museum.

The collections link to many strands of both the primary and secondary curricula, and can be explored online, or on a visit to the Museum.

Visit the Museum

Clare Museum is free to visit and welcomes many school groups, college students, tour groups and age friendly groups, from Clare and further afield. Around 700 of the collections' objects are on display in the Museum's exhibitions.

All groups should contact us to book in advance.
Explore online at www.claremuseum.ie

- View the objects in the Museum's collections
- Discover stories about the Museum's objects
- Download activity sheets for school groups

Request a visit from the Museum

The Museum's Education & Outreach Officer and/or Curator can be requested to make outreach visits to schools, colleges and groups to give talks, share selected objects or participate in and complement already established programmes. Groups can contact us to book an outreach visit.

Tips for teachers/groups:

- We recommend allowing at least one hour for a visit. The Museum is self-guided.
- School groups can book a space for eating lunch, if available. No food is allowed in the exhibition areas.
- Friars Walk car park and coach park are next to the Museum.
- The Museum has a lift and can provide two wheelchairs on request.
- Educational activity sheets are available.
- Tá eolas ar fáil i nGaeilge.
